EAGLE BLACK

A close-up image of a granite countertop with a complex pattern of brown, tan, and black speckles. The word "KERSHAW" is printed in white, serif, all-caps font at the bottom center.

KERSHAW

The image shows a close-up of a granite surface with a dense, speckled pattern. The base color is a warm, reddish-pink, which is interspersed with numerous small, dark brown to black mineral grains. The texture appears slightly granular and polished.

SALISBURY PINK

The background is a high-resolution image of a granite surface. It features a dense, irregular pattern of small, angular mineral grains. The primary colors are various shades of reddish-brown and terracotta, interspersed with smaller, darker spots of black and grey. The overall effect is a rich, textured appearance typical of natural stone.

MORNING ROSE

The image shows a close-up of a granite surface with a rich, dark reddish-brown base color. It is heavily speckled with small, irregular spots of dark grey and black, giving it a complex, textured appearance. The lighting is even, highlighting the natural grain and mineral variations of the stone.
